scenes that we've all seen before.*

Willie Nelson

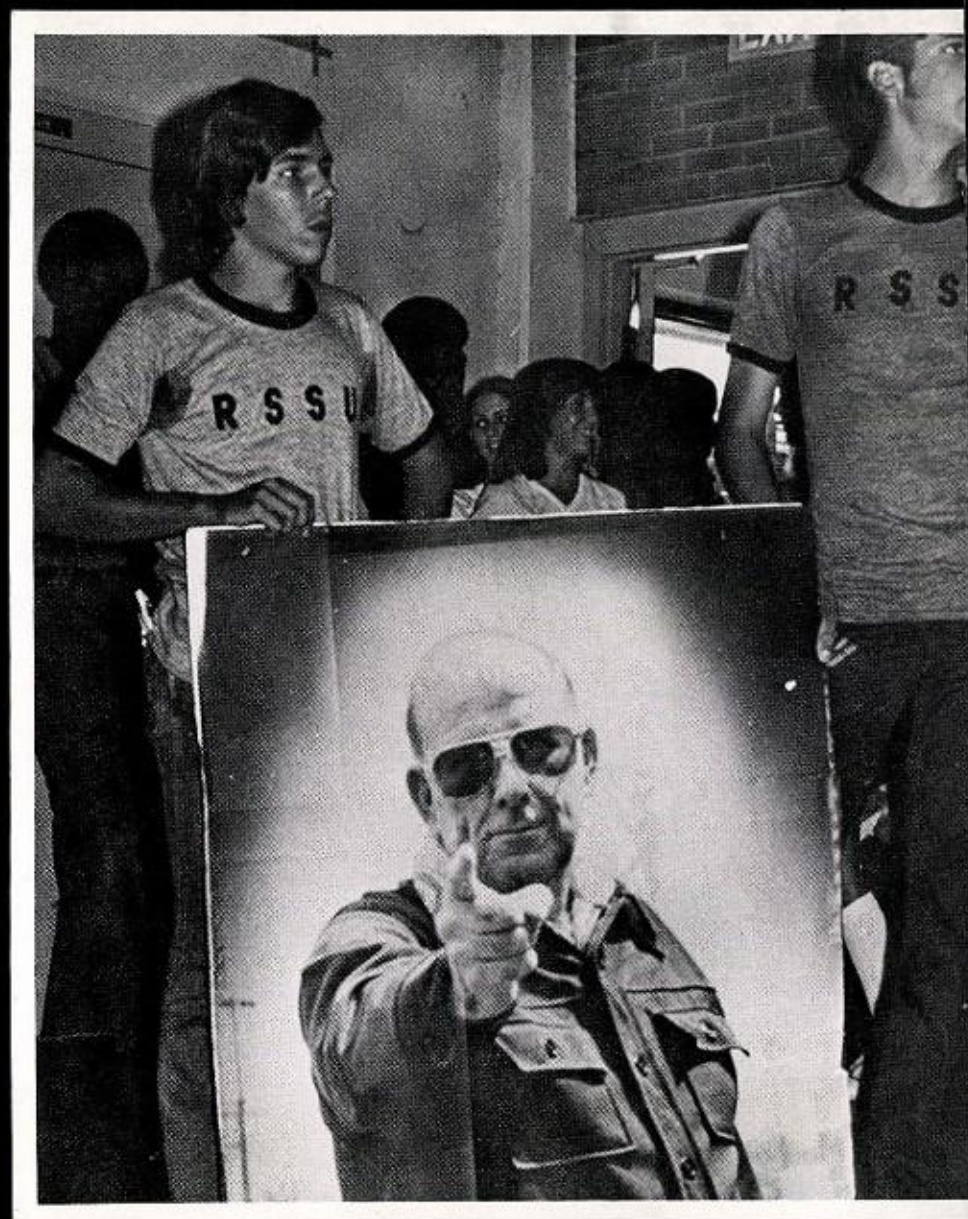

The hour is getting late

It's time we had begun.

Knowing something's one thing

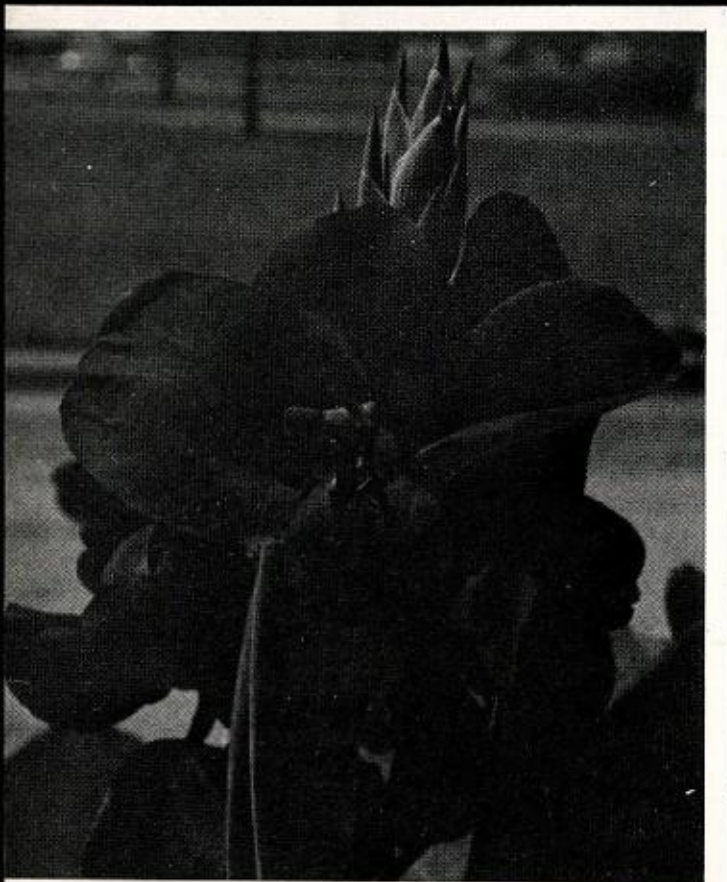

But the race must still be run.

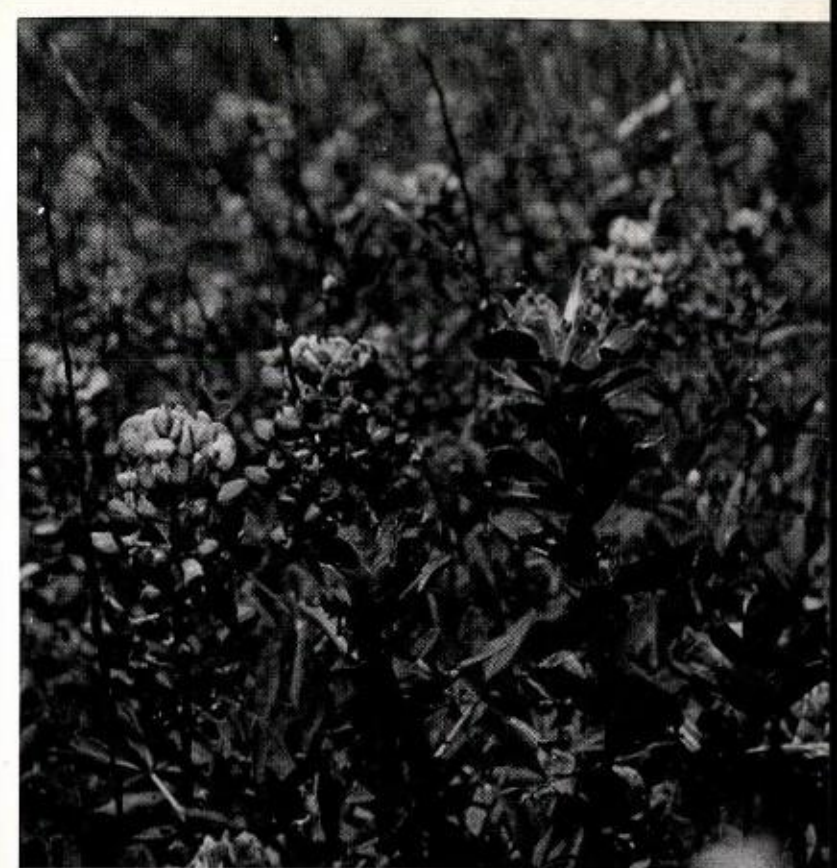

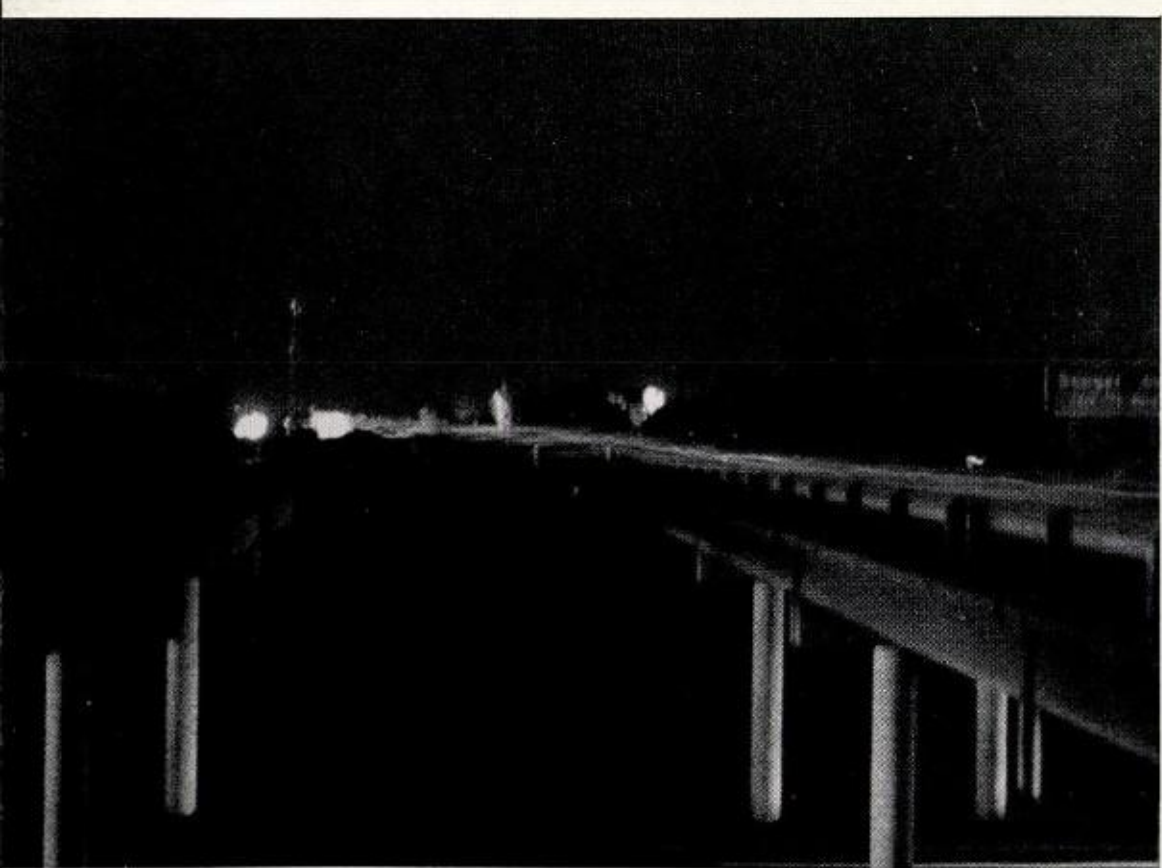

There was nowhere but here to walk
Letting the time go by,
Trying to see if I could ever find me.

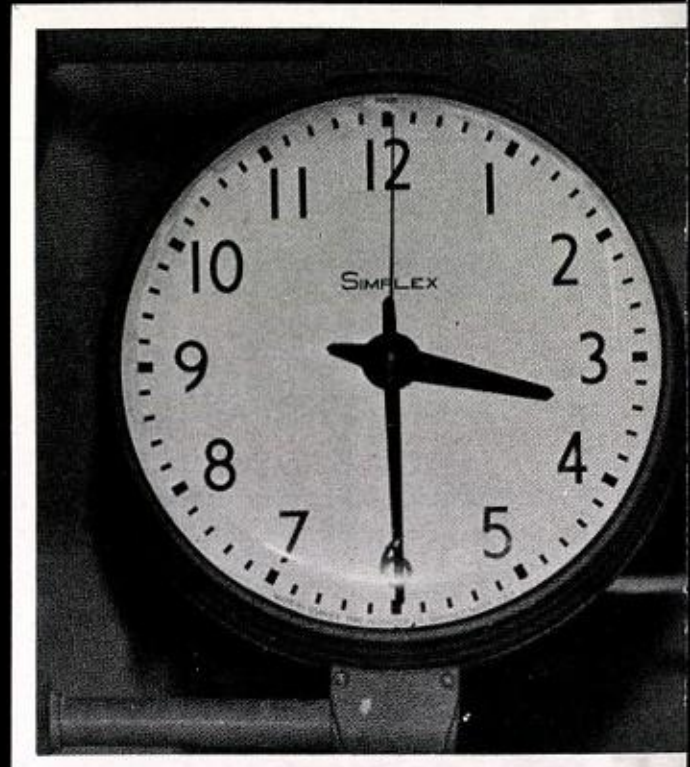

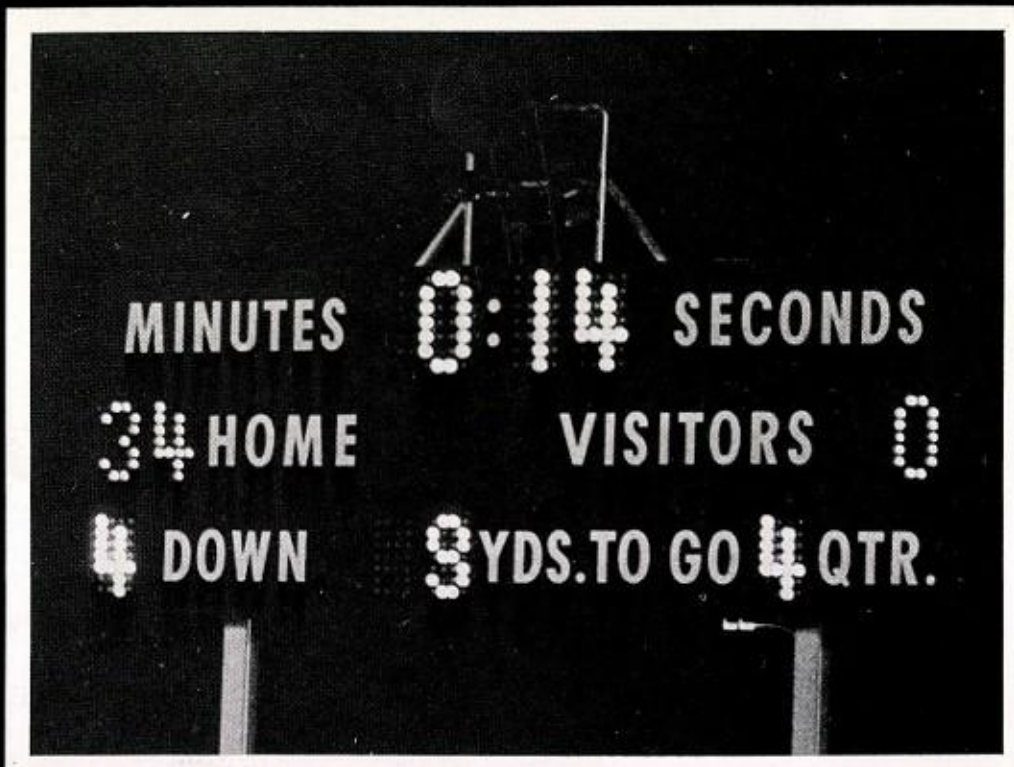

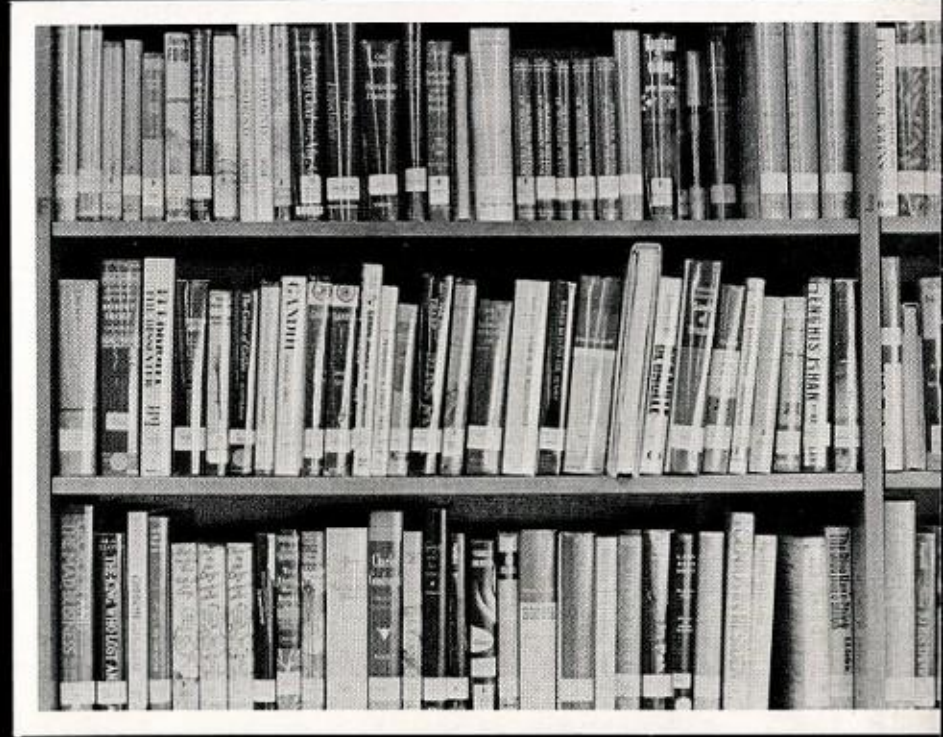

Way over yonder is a place I have seen
In a garden of wisdom from some long ago dream.
Maybe tomorrow I'll find my way.

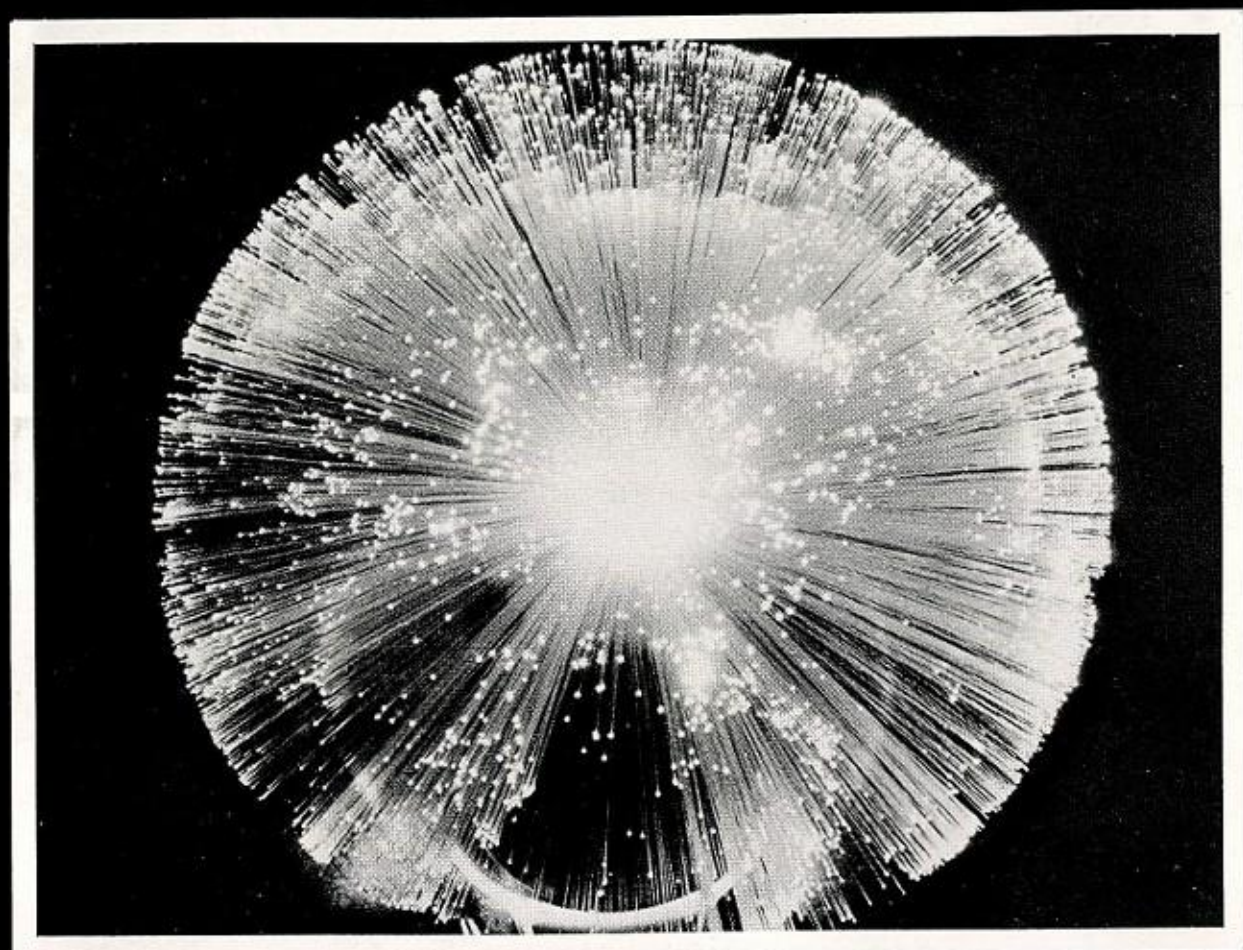

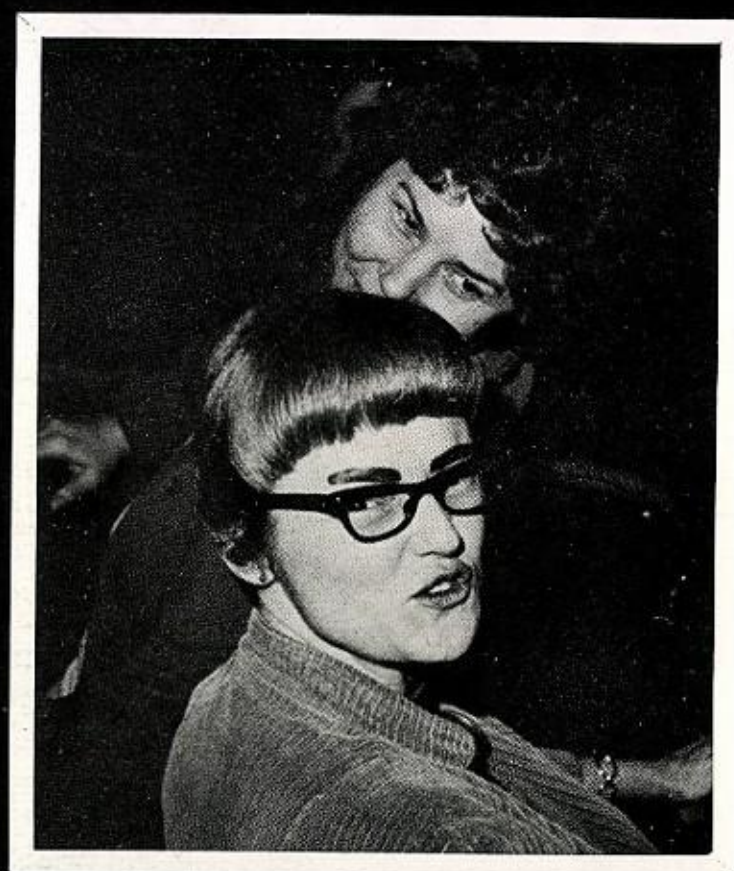

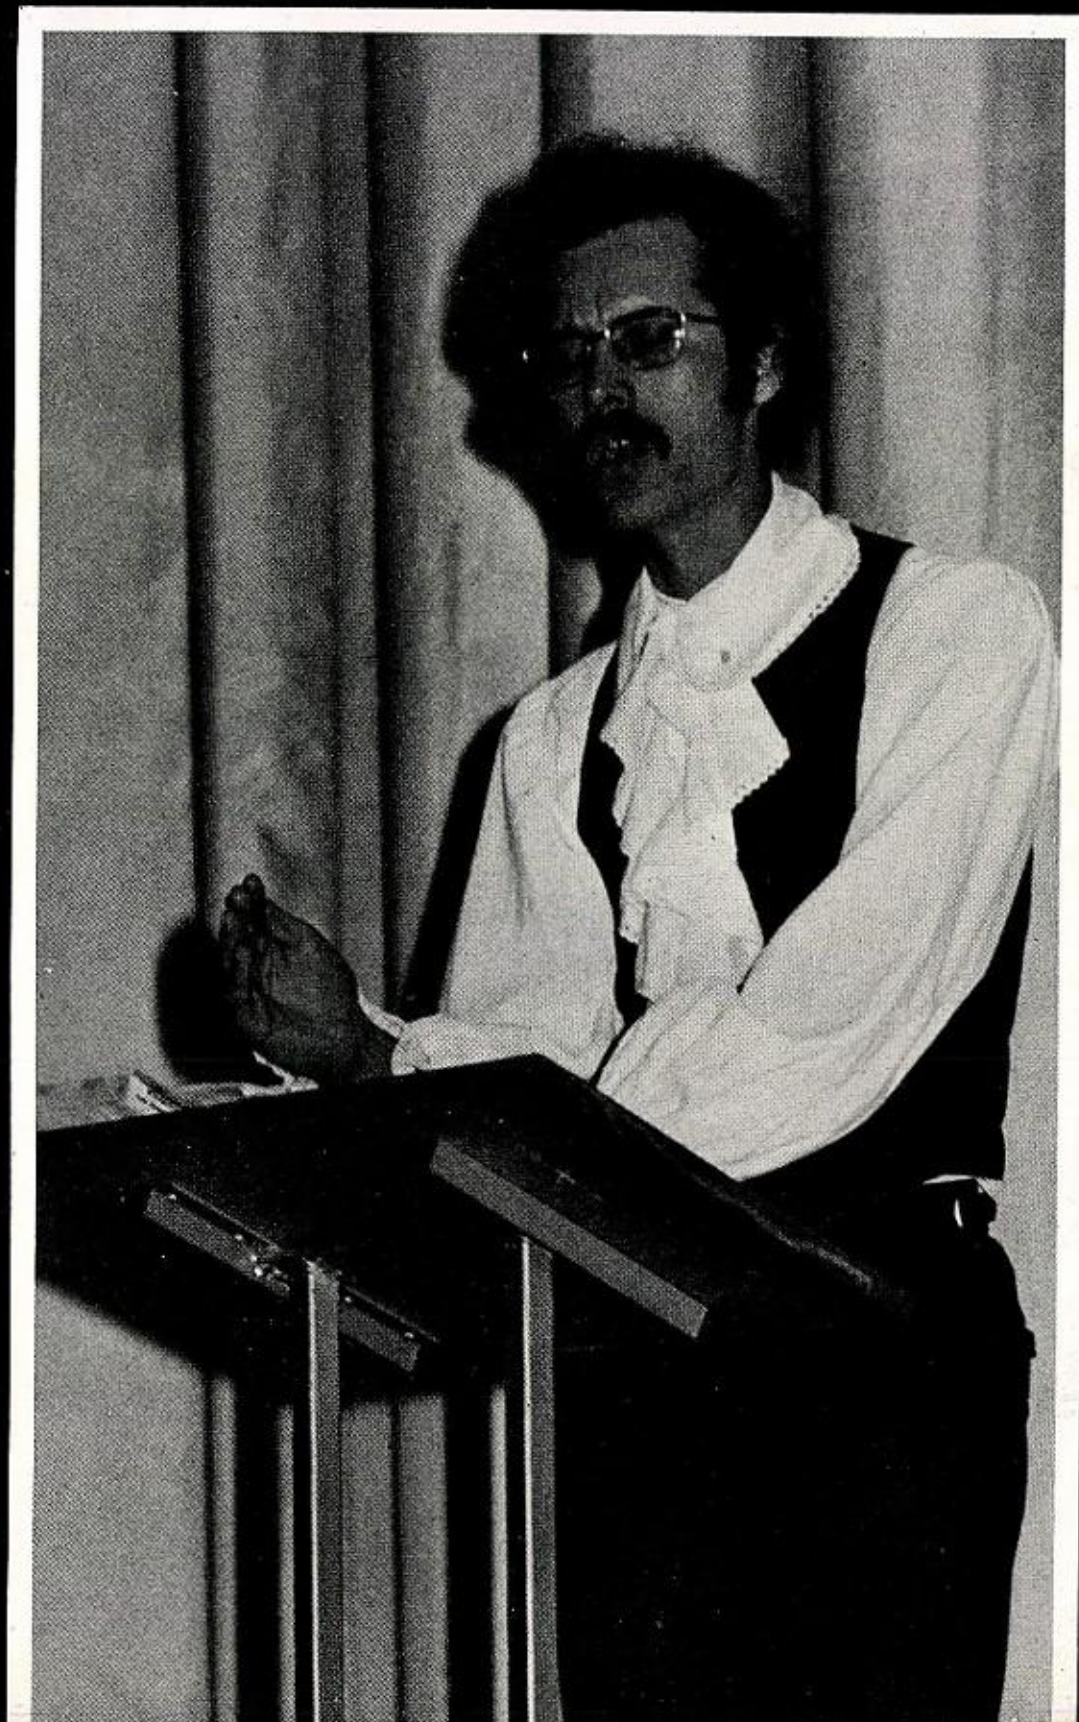

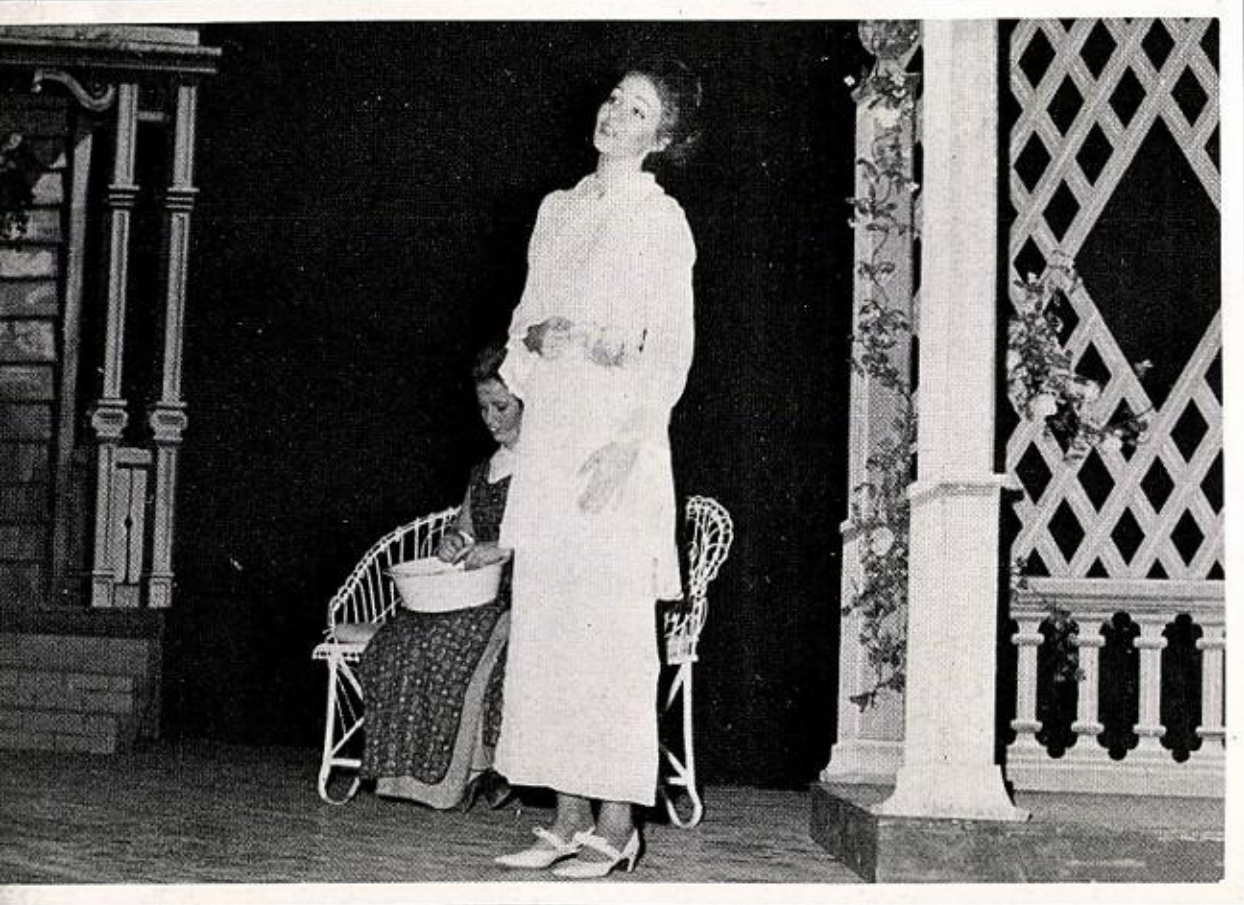

Don't it seem like time goes on
And here we are still carrying on,
Reaching out for one another.

Verse adapted from
Willie Nelson
Bob Dylan
John Denver
Carole King

You know I'm just learning how it feels
To be free
You know I never really knew just what
It could be before.
You know everything's coming together
now
Can't you see.
And I live my life in celebration
That I've got a life to live.

rams back their boys

Football season '75 brought back an exceptional spirit to Ram pep rallies, where all four classes made the rafters ring. With the help of the cheerleaders, the students took part in class competition for the highly esteemed spirit stick. The drill team and band added rhythm and enthusiasm with precision routine coordinated with the jazz and rock music. Various classes and clubs created and performed skits at each pep rally.

Bebop days were here again. One of the most successful pep rallies of the football season took place on Bebop Day. Everyone pulled out mom's skirts and dad's letter jackets and hopped and bopped to the cool music. Whether because of the greased-down hair or the white bobbie socks, an old form of enthusiasm prevailed throughout the day.

Spirit. It's a nebulous—and sometimes hard-to-find—element. The girls in charge of motivating and creating that element in Rams this year were Lyn Brown, Deniece Bryant, Veniece Bryant, Kris Kaiser, Sarah Price and Connie Sadler, RHS cheerleaders for 1975-76. These senior girls organized pep rallies, attended home and out-of-town football games, led yells at basketball games and even served as bat girls for the baseball team. Their work and support of athletic teams kept the Spirit of '76 going throughout the year.

lady teachers do it

Rams discovered "Teacher Power" again Oct. 17, when the faculty members, not to be outdone by the Ramettes, presented what some defined as a drill routine. The teachers spent a grueling two hours of practice on the highly polished, coordinated dance routine and were coached by members of the drill team. The routine incorporated several dance steps, none of which could be identified.

Major contributors to the Ram spirit this year were the members of the Ramette drill team. The Ramettes participated in each pep rally and football game. In addition, the drill team performed at several of the basketball games during the winter months.

The Ramettes continued their winning tradition this year. Along with the band, the drill team received second place in the Parade of Champions in Dallas during the fall. In January, the girls were awarded a rating of first in jazz routines and a second in high kick and props.

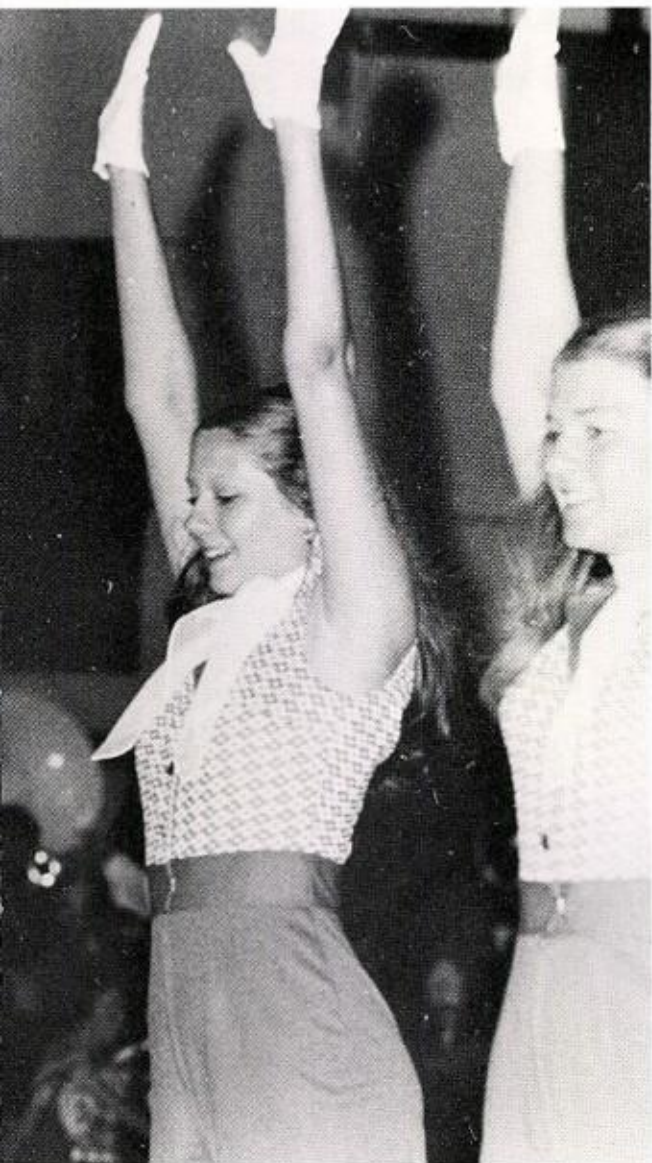

Captain of the drill team was Elizabeth Jenkins, and lieutenants were Melinda Johnson and Cindy Kersh.

t-shirts adorn ram bods

More than ever before, T-Shirts of every form and fashion surfaced around the school. With the opening of several T-Shirt shops around town, almost every club, group and team joined the act. At one time or another, nearly every student arrived at school adorned with a shirt that told who he was, to what he belonged and/or what he would do. Even 'secret' societies such as ITK and RSSU advertised their membership. Around RHS, students would give you anything ... except the shirt off their back.

On stage and off, "Thé Music Man" was a tremendous success. With the help of Mrs. Robertson, Mr. Masters, Mr. Balmos, and the drama teachers and students of the other Waco high schools, another successful production was presented to Waco. Practices were held at each of the high schools, with only short breaks at Thanksgiving and Christmas. It took two and a half months of hard work and late hours, but the end product made it all worth while.

rams make deposit at blood bank

In January, the local American Red Cross came to Richfield with a problem. The blood supply on hand was critically low, and a new supply was urgently needed. At their request, the Student Council sponsored an emergency blood drive to restock supplies dwindled by holiday accidents. During a one-day drive, Rams donated over seventy pints of blood. This amount excluded those students who had been forced to receive a gamma globulin shot in the fall after having been exposed to hepatitis.

Having faced five teams rated in the top ten teams in the state, the Rams ended a rough season with a 1-9 record. Gridiron opponents included Longview and Bryan High Schools, both of which were rated on top at the time of the game. The Rams also faced Killeen (2), John Tyler (4) and Temple (9) during the course of the season. RHS lost out on the mythical city championship as well, losing to both Waco High and University. The Rams met defeat at the hands of Tyler High School and Corsicana.

For the first time, the team boasted female trainers—Gay Dobias and Teresa Dickerson—to aid with minor injuries on the field. Coach Lee Harrington said he was pleased with their work.

runners-up

Students pictured on this page were five of the runners-up for senior favorite. Seniors nominate five boys and five girls in each English class. The top fifteen boys and top fifteen girls nominated become the semi-finalists. Seniors vote to choose ten finalists from this list, and the final vote determines the top five girls and five boys to receive this honor. The vote was extremely close this year, and these runners-up followed close behind the students designated as senior favorites.

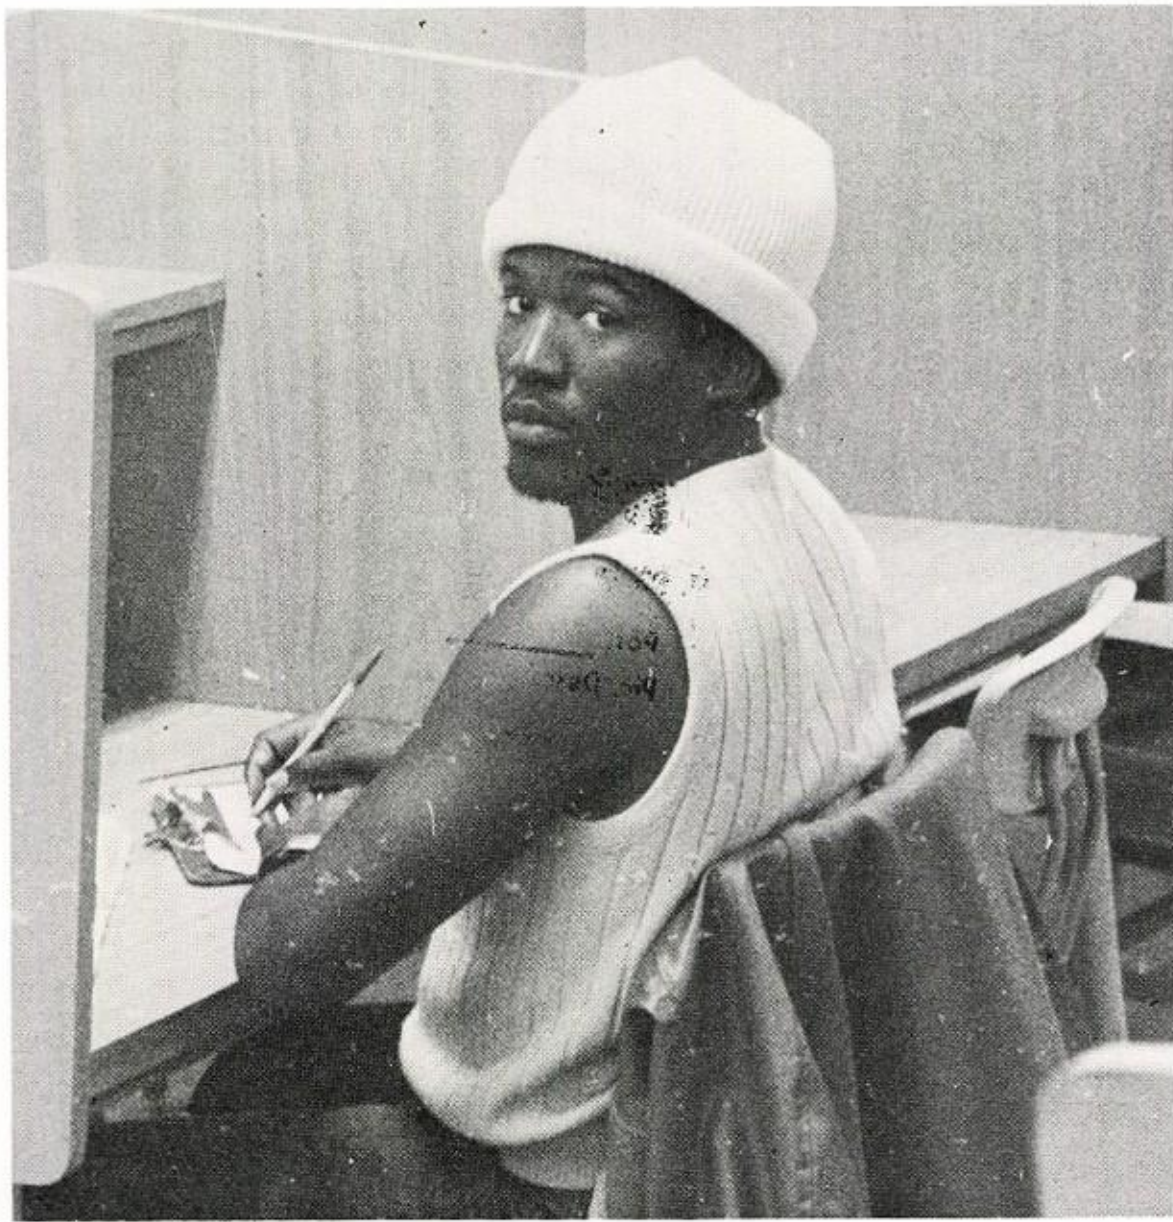

a. Candy Carter was also named homecoming queen during football season. b. Barbara Leftwich created much of the art work used by the senior class. c. Noni Katten directed the Citizen of the Month program. d. Doyle Walker was a star running back for the Rams until a shoulder injury sidelined him. He will attend college on a football scholarship. e. 77'ers produce leaders

Juniors proved to be leaders this year, as a number held positions of responsibility around the school. Three of the four Challenge Team members were juniors, as were treasurer of the Student Council and co-editor of the annual.

freshmen come to high school

For only the second time in history, ninth graders traveled the halls of Richfield. The class of baby Rams showed that they did not have to be old to have spirit. Freshmen turned out in big numbers at pep rallies and other school activities, even winning the spirit stick once. The ninth grade athletic teams all fought hard, and several brought home city championships. The Class of '79 demonstrated they were a group to be reckoned with.

teachers provide learning atmosphere

Through dedication and hard work, the Richfield administration and faculty led some 1300 students through a maze of facts, figures, faces and fantasies. Using his individual style and methods, each teacher provided a learning experience for his classes and helped prepare them for competition in a world where prices are high, jobs are low and change is constant.

faces smile; fun prevails

Teachers found the school year was not all work as they took part in activities such as a faculty drill team, faculty basketball game and even TV's "Almost Anything Goes." Mrs. Lowry got a pie in the face; Mr. Zachary got a door slammed in his face; and the principal's office got a new face.

teachers give headaches, homework

As usual, teachers at RHS were able to come up with assignments, project and papers to keep students busy. Teachers gave Rams a lot of homework, a few headaches but a lot of knowledge to take home for the summer.

The Baylor Spirit

It has been called undefinable. It is pride, it is goals, it is a thrilling atmosphere in which to grow. The Baylor spirit provokes excitement and compassion which can be seen in every open, sharing face.

The spirit of the Green and Gold adds a capacity for self-renewal to the campus that spreads from studies to sports, to church, to alumni and community. To lead, to excel, to provide identity—that is the Baylor spirit that reaches out and touches everyone in sight. The Baylor spirit may be undefinable, but it is certainly irresistible.

notes

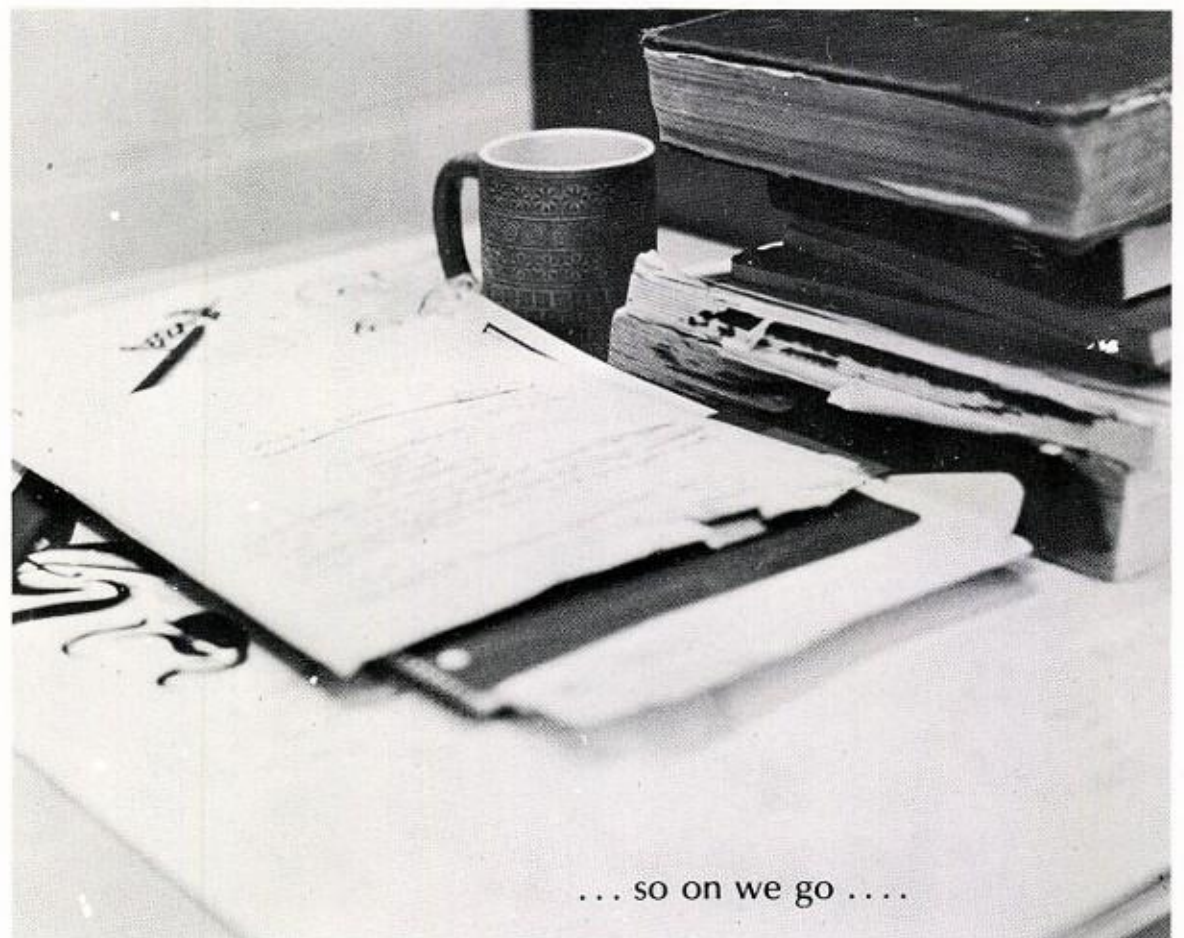

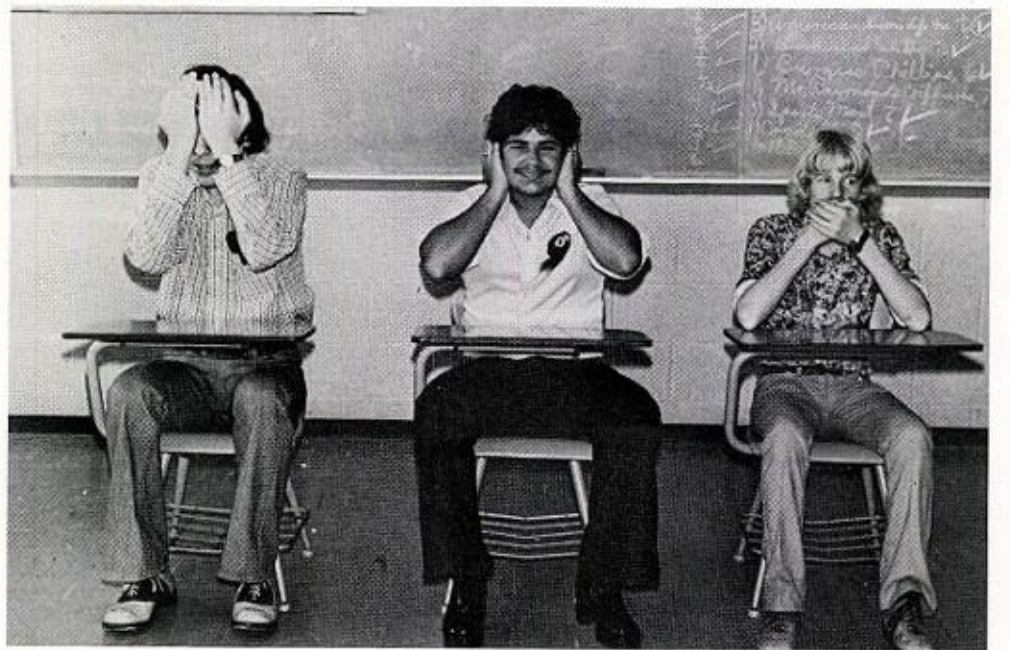

Jusan:

Coincidences are apart of us all.

Though most of ours were experienced in the Capri, and every experience a little different than the one before.

Perhaps we can look to a different tomorrow, to a different year.

I'm sure that there are many more experiences to come, such as you, hopefully -

That would make 77 fantastic,
Then 78 following - Everything's
Coming Our Way ***

I hope you reach all your desired goals in life, for we'll be in it together, atleast part way. Its for sure I'll see you on the other side.

Love ya,

Skid

It's I will love
always you love
xxxxx love love
